Welcome!
As a University of Kentucky Voluntary Faculty member, you may now access the UK Medical Center Library’s (UK MCL) electronic resources. Most are only a click away from the library’s home page. http://libraries.uky.edu/mcl By bookmarking this site on your web browser, it will always be handy when you need it.

This benefit of your faculty membership will provide information support for you as a preceptor. The library provides a wide variety of information sources through its website including textbooks, journal articles, databases and systematic reviews. This pamphlet will show you where to begin.

And remember…
- When accessing electronic resources, you will need to enter your Link Blue ID and password when prompted by the proxy server. Don’t have a Link Blue Account? Contact Emily Chambers at the UK Voluntary Faculty Program Office at 859-323-8013.

- When registering to use our ILLiad Interlibrary Loan Service, be sure to identify yourself as “UKMC Voluntary Faculty” in the Status field.

- When checking out books for the first time from the UK MCL, see our Circulation staff to be entered into the InfoKat Discovery system and receive a library barcode.

BrowZine
Browzine is an easy way to access academic journals on your mobile device and desktop. It provides access to the scholarly journal content available through UK Libraries, providing an easy way to browse, read, save, and monitor scholarly journals across disciplines. You can personalize BrowZine to:
- Create a personal bookshelf of your favorite journals
- Create an account to sync your bookshelf across multiple devices
- Save articles to read off-line or export to services such as DropBox, EndNote, and more

For more information, visit the BrowZine Research Guide at http://libguides.uky.edu/BrowZineUKY

Or go straight to the product with UK’s friendly URL: http://libraries.uky.edu/BrowZine

Library Services for University of Kentucky Voluntary Faculty

Medical Center Library
University of Kentucky
800 Rose Street
Lexington, KY 40536-0298
(859) 323-5300 phone
mclib@uky.edu
http://libraries.uky.edu/mcl

March 2020
E-Journals and E-Books
To access thousands of electronic full-text biomedical journals from the UK Medical Center Library’s (MCL) home page http://libraries.uky.edu/mcl, click on the “E-JOURNALS” tab (1) above the “SEARCH” field. Simply type in the title of the journal you wish to access. The proxy server will prompt you for your Link Blue ID and password. A very small number of journals will require an additional password which is available by contacting the Medical Center Library.

To find electronic textbooks, click on the “LIBRARY CATALOG” tab (2) above the “SEARCH” box and type in your subject or book title. From the results page, click on the “Full Text Online” link on the left margin.

Medline, PubMed and other databases
Medline is the world’s premiere index of the medical journal literature. Produced by the National Library of Medicine and updated daily, it contains over 25 million citations. PubMed is the version of Medline available freely to the public.

Medline is the world’s premiere index of the medical journal literature. Produced by the National Library of Medicine and updated daily, it contains over 25 million citations. PubMed is the version of Medline available freely to the public.

By linking to PubMed from the UK MCL’s home page, you can directly link to full-text articles owned by the Medical Center Library. Click on the “DATABASES” tab (3) above the “SEARCH” box. Then click on the down arrow under “Selected Databases for Medical Center Library”. Select “PubMed.” Additional databases include Access Medicine, CINAHL, Clinical Key, Essential Evidence Plus, and PsychINFO.

Two more databases available to voluntary faculty are the evidence-based medicine resource, Cochrane Library, and the expert opinion product, UpToDate.

ILLiad Interlibrary Loan Service
Occasionally you will need an item the UK MCL does not have. An option you may want to consider is the MCL ILLiad Interlibrary Loan Service. To register for this service, click on “My Accounts” at the top of the MCL home page (4), then select “Medical Center ILLiad.” Next click on the link at the bottom of the page “First Time Users.” This is where you will create your own ID and password; Be sure to select “UKMC Voluntary Faculty” in the status field. Once you have created your account, you may login from the following address: https://mcilliad.uky.edu Or you can just click on the “ILLiad (MC ILL/Document Delivery Request” link in the left column of the MCL home page, under Library Links.

Checking out materials
Looking for a particular text? InfoKatDiscovery, the Library’s catalog, (available by clicking on LIBRARY CATALOG) (2), will tell you if it is in our collection. In order to check out print materials, please contact our Circulation staff.

Training sessions
The MCL offers a variety of training opportunities on its electronic resources. To see a schedule of onsite classes and to register, from the UK MCL home page, scroll down and click on “MCL CLASSES” under “Library Links” then scroll down for more information. Classes are free, and everyone is welcome to attend.

Contact Us
The UK Medical Center Library is only a phone call or an email away. 859-323-5300 mclib@uky.edu

Try our reference service by clicking on the “Ask Us” link at the very top of our home page. Then scroll down for more information. http://libraries.uky.edu/ml

To obtain a Link Blue account, contact Emily Chambers at the UK Voluntary Faculty Program Office: 859-323-8013 or ukcfp@uky.edu http://ahec.med.uky.edu 859-323-8018